Trinkle Nominated By 19,000 Majority

Lieutenant Governorship In Doubt---Race Close Between West and Gunn

TRINKLE GAINS IN CITIES

Berkley D. Adams Re-nominated for State Corporation Commission—Lower Valley for Trinkle and Southwest Also Goes To Trinkle—Wythe Gives 1,800 Majority To Trinkle.

(Special to the Gazette)

Richmond, Va., Aug. 3.— With many precincts and in some whole counties missing it is possible today only to approximate the undoubted majority of State Senator E. Lee Trinkle of Wytheville, over Harry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, in yesterday's primary. Apparently Senator Trinkle majority is not far from 9000. The districts are estimated as follows: For Tucker, Eighth district, 1,000; Tenth District, 2500; total, 4500. For Trinkle First District, 1000; Second District, 500; Third District, 500; Fourth District, 1000; Fifth District, 3500; Sixth District, 3500; Seventh District, 500; Ninth District, 12,000; total 23500. The majority for Trinkle is 19000.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 3.—State Senator E. Lee Trinkle of Wytheville won the governorship race over Harry St. George Tucker of Lexington by about 15,000 majority in the statewide Democratic primary held yesterday according to incomplete returns received today. Tucker's supporters in Richmond gave up the fight long before midnight, realizing that nothing short of a miracle could save the Lexington man from defeat.

State Senator Julien Gunn, of Henrico county, looked like a winner over State Senator Junius E. West, of Suffolk, in the Lieutenant-Governorship race. Kenneth N. Gilpin, of Clarke county, formerly of Baltimore, apparently did not make as good a run as his friends predicted he would. D. W. Fitzhugh polled only a small vote.

Berkley D. Adams, of Charlotte county, apparently swept the State for the State Corporation Commissioner over his opponent, Elben C. Folkes, of Richmond. Mr. Adams is the incumbent.

Trinkle's victory was due largely to his more compact working organization, which held down Tucker's expected majorities in the cities. From the beginning of the campaign it was conceded that Trinkle had the advantage in the rural sections, but Tucker's managers counted on the urban vote rallying to the Rockbridge county man in sufficient numbers to offset the county vote for his opponent. In this they were mistaken, as returns from a number of cities show.

Another element that contributed to the Wytheville man's victory was the surprisingly large women vote cast. They had been regarded generally as Trinkle supporters on the liquor issue and reports from all over the State indicate that their interest was not academic by any means, but was emphasized by ballots today. In a number of sections they polled 40 per cent. of the vote cast and in some precincts the women actually outnumbered the men.

The long ticket in this city made the count exceedingly slow and the result was not known definitely at midnight. Indications, however, were that Tucker had a small majority.

In the Second (Norfolk-Portsmouth) district, which had been considered certain for Tucker, incomplete returns indicate a victory for Trinkle. The votes in Norfolk and Portsmouth are both reported close, with Trinkle carrying the rural sections and thus getting a majority in the district.

Tucker's headquarters here claims the First district by a small majority, but available returns do not bear out his claim. Fredericksburg went for Trinkle by a vote of 333 to 255. Northumberland gave the Wythe county man 427 to 161, and Westmoreland was carried for him by 0 votes. Hampton gave him a majority of 227, Richmond county went for Tucker 210 to 76 and one precinct of Newport News gave the Rockbridge man three majority.

The Fourth district apparently is inclining to Trinkle.

In the Upper Shenandoah Valley the fight is close. Frederick county, not including Winchester, gives Tucker 370 majority. Rappahannock reports 150 and Bath 50 majority for the Lexington man, while Harrisonburg and the county of Rockingham gave Trinkle a majority of 217.

Tucker, however, apparently has swept the lower valley, his home section. Staunton gave him a majority of 318 and his majority in Augusta county is put at 1,200. Lexington and Rockbridge county also went overwhelmingly for their favorite son.

Stafford county gave the Wytheville man a majority of 100.

On the south side Trinkle also apparently has scored a victory. Eight precincts in Petersburg gave him a majority of 328 and Henrico county turned in a majority of 169.

Meager returns from the Sixth district, the home district of Senator Carter Glass, a Tucker supporter, indicated that that district had gone heavily for Trinkle.

In the southwest the Trinkle wave apparently approached tidal proportions. Three out of 11 Roanoke districts gave him 783 votes to 231 for his Lexington opponent, while the vote in three Danville precincts was 128 for Trinkle to 22 for Tucker. The Wythe countian also has a lead of 214 in seven of the 16 Roanoke county precincts to report.

Wythe county rolled up a majority of 1,800 for its native son, his home town of Wytheville giving him 361 votes to the good. Pulaski county came across with 957 majority for Trinkle, the vote being 1,284 to 289. Six precincts in Washington county, in the extreme western end of the State, gave the Wythe county man 547 votes to 82 for Tucker. Wise county has given him a majority of about 1,500.

Mr. Trinkle returned to his native home, where he began the practice of law, which has been very successful. In addition, he joined with his brothers and operated several large farms, and he is closely identified with several of the largest business ventures in Southwest Virginia. He has served many terms as chairman of the Democratis party in Wythe County, and led a brilliant fight against C. B. Slemp for Congress in 1916. He was twice elected without opposition to the State Senate.

Mr. Trinkle is a past division commander of Virginia of the Sons of Confeedrate Veterans, a member of the Presbyterian Church, a teacher of a men's Bible Class, and a member of the following fraternal organizations: Masonic, Odd Fellows, Modern Woodmen, Elks, Owls, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, Shrine and Scottish Rite.

AUTO CRASH PROVES FATAL

Stanley Kelly Is Killed While Riding Motorcycle.

A motorcycle driven by Stanley Kelly, eighteen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Kelly of 2509 Duke street, at 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon collided with a motor truck tank of the Texas Oil Company, driven by Roy Nevitt, and resulted in Kelly being fatally injured. His chest was crushed and his jaw smashed, and he died before he reached the Alexandria Hospital.

The body was taken to Demaine's Mortuary Chapel and viewed by a coroner's jury summoned by Dr. T. M. Jones and the jury adjourned over till 8:30 o'clock tonight when the case will be heard. The jury is composed of Carter H. Smith, Marvin Sheflett, A. S. Elbourn, Thomas Dubarr, C. D. Woolf and C. W. Dettor.

An investigation of the case was made, Policeman Durrer immediately following report of the affair to the police.

According to Nevitt he was driving eastward on Duke street, he being on his way with the empty tank to the local office. He was accompanied by Richard Tennelly, local agent for the company. When opposite Ballenger's store on Duke street, he claims that the motorcycle driven by Kelly, collided with the rear wheel of the truck throwing Kelly with considerable force from the motorcycle to the macadam street. Nevitt says he immediately stopped and got off his vehicle and extricated Kelly from the machine and placed him in an automobile and had him rushed to the Alexandria Hospital. The motorcycle was badly damaged.

Kelly at the time of the accident was returning from work at the Alexandria Naval Torpedo Station where he was employed as a machinist's apprentice. It was raining at the time and it is thought that his machine may have skidded. James L. Kelly, father of the deceased, is a Southern Railway locomotive engineer.

Gazette Phone Kept Busy—Local Candidates Congratulated

The Gazette phone was kept busy last night. Almost from the time of the closing of the polls the phone began to buzz and anxious citizens desired to know the result of the gubernatorial fight. Just as fast as the news trickled in, it was given out. Much interest centered in the local fight. Early in the evening the result in the city of gubernatorial contest was known. The result of the other contests was not, however, known till after 11 o'clock as final returns were not completed in the third ward till after that hour.

Many who failed to remain out till midnight, went home without getting an idea as to how the gubernatorial contest went. However, those in a position to know, realized early in the night from the complexion of the returns received at that time that the state surely would go for Trinkle by a substantial majority.

Friends of the local candidates for office who were winners today were showered with congratulations. The democratic nomination is equivalent to an election and these candidates will be voted on November 1 and they assume office January 1, 1922. The only new office is that of civil and police justice. He will try both civil and criminal cases in the police court.

WASHINGTON Day by Day

(From our special correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 3.—If Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had been discovered in the act of planting a bomb filled with TNT into the midst of the House Committee on Ways and Means he could not have created greater consternation in the ranks of the Republican members of this august body than was experienced when he made known his plan for a revision of our tax laws. That the Republican leaders were surprised, is not shocked when the head of the fiscal Department of the government unbosomed himself of his ideas as to what methods should be pursued in bringing about change in our tax laws, is putting the case very mildly. The Secretary of the Treasury's views concerning this all important subject have set the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee figuring on the consequences that face the Republican party if his recommendations are finally adopted by the Congress. There is not a single Republican, willing to give an unbiased opinion, who does not view the situation with alarm from a political standpoint.

The proposal of the Secretary of the Treasury for a flat federal license tax of $10 on all automobiles, for a two-cent stamp tax on all bank checks, for a three-cent rate on first class mail matter in place of the present two-cent postage and for an increase of the tobacco taxes so that $100,000,000 a year additional from this source will be obtained came as a thunderbolt out of a clear sky to pester Republican House leaders charged with the responsibility of tax revision in the hope that some of the unnecessary burdens now levied upon the shoulders of the American people might be lifted.

A canvass of the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee made by the Gazette correspondent indicates such a difference of opinion respecting this method of taxation advanced by the Secretary of the Treasury that any one or all of them may be flatly rejected before the tax legislation is brought into the House for consideration.

Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, after he had digested the proposals made by Secretary Mellon declared that he is askin for morge money than the government had last year.

"I don't believe that is at all necessary," commented the Connecticut member. "If all the government departments will cut to the bone, I believe we can get along on less money than we had last year."

Representative Hawley, of Oregon, another Republican member of the Ways and Means stated openly that he would oppose the stamp tax on checks, doubted the wisdom of the increased postage rate and would favor the auto tax only as a means of raising revenue.

Here, then, is opposition right in the ranks of the very Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee who will be held responsible to the country for a downward revision of the burdens which the American people are now compelled to bear.

The Democratic attitude toward Secretary Mellon's recommendations was outlined today by Representative John Garner, of Texas, who is expected to lead the attack for his party against the tax revision bill. Garner pointed out that the recommendations of Secretary Mellon were to have been expected from a Republican administration.

"It is typical of them," he declared. "They propose to take $500,000,000 or $600,000,000 in taxes off the rich and those best able to afford them and place them on the backs of the ordinary people. They would remove the excess profits of the fat corporations, would reduce the taxes on incomes of the inordinately rich and would place them on every person who sends a letter, writes a check or who drives a moderately-priced car."

Republican members of the House who have had an opportunity to study the proposals of Secretary Mellon see visions of tremendous losses of votes that would follow taxes on bank checks and automobiles and the increase in firstclass postage rates. They realize that such assessments are aimed at the poor man's pocketbook. The rich will not be affected one iota by any change which may be made in the tax law. It is for this very important reason that they are planning to fight shy of any such taxes and they will ignore the recommendations of Secretary Mellon along this line if they can find a way to balance the government budget by any other means.

State Department officials declared today that the United States government has no intention of defraying the expenses of the delegates from foreign countries invited to attend the conference on disarmament and Far Eastern questions scheduled to take place in Washington sometime this fall. These officials are working on the theory that the representative of each government asked to participate in the forthcoming gathering

EIGHTH DISTRICT VOTE

The Eighth Congressional District about two months ago was claimed by the Tucker forces to be safe for their candidate by at least five thousand majority. The city of Alexandria was considered by them to be almost unanimous in favor of Mr. Tucker. Up to the time the Trinkle Campaign Committee was organized and began active work these figures remained unchanged in the estimates of the Tucker organization.

But as soon as the Trinkle Committee began to function a most decided change was apparent in the alignment of the voters. The Trinkle mass meeting at the Opera House was an undoubted success. The crowd was more than doubly as large as either of the two Tucker meetings held at same place, and the enthusiasm and applause far more spontaneous and frequent. Senator Trinkle's speech made many converts, and won him hundreds of votes.

Thereafter the skilful and painstaking work of the Trinkle forces supplemented the good work already begun and the result yesterday clearly demonstrated its thorough effectiveness. So far as the present returns indicate, the Tucker majority in the Eighth Congressional District has been reduced to a figure in the neighborhood of one thousand. This is practically a Trinkle triumph, and in our opinion, if the Trinkle workers had begun earlier in the campaign the result would have been changed into a Trinkle majority.

The vote in Alexandria is subject to similar analysis. A majority of less than three hundred in this city, which only a few weeks ago was considered a Tucker st ongh old is certainly a cause of congratulation among Senator Trinkle's adherents.

As stated elsewhere in these columns, if Mr. Tucker had been nominated we would have cheerfully supported him, and if we know the Democracy of Alexandria and the Eighth District, Senator Trinkle will have no harder-working and more loyal followers, from now on, in any district of Virginia.

A Trinkle Victory

The primary vote of yesterday decided the gubernatorial nomination and Senator E. Lee Trinkle, of Wytheville, is now the regular Democratic nominee for Governor of the Old Dominion.

The Gazette is proud of the decision of the electorate. It believes that Governor Trinkle is the logical man for the place, and that his nomination indicates the turning of a new leaf in the political history of Virginia. Clean, honest, fearless, in the very vigor of life, with a record that shone clear and faultless in the merciless spot-light of publicity, he came out winner in a campaign that was tensely drawn as to issues, and fought in deadly earnest from beginning to end.

The Gazette is equally proud of the high plane on which the campaign, for the most part, was conducted. As far as its columns are concerned, it scrupulously refrained from even the slightest appearance of mud-slinging and personal abuse. It endeavored to make the issues clean-cut and incisive, and waged its editorial warfare on their merits alone.

Now that the campaign is over we feel sure that the great Democratic Party in this State will enlist under the common standard of their leader and fight the common foe with unabated devotion. Had Mr. Tucker won in the primary, the Gazette would have been found in the front rank fighting for the nominee with no less zeal and sincerity than that with which it will support Senator Trinkle.

We congratulate Senator Trinkle at the same time that we offer our prayers in his behalf. No small task is his! The problems of the state are many and complicated and not easy of solution. However, with his wide training and experience in both public and private life, and with his conscientious devotion to duty, we have every confidence in the outcome.

But yesterday—and Virginia stood at the turning of the ways: one of which led backward, and one of which stretched forth into the future. She has chosen the path of progress and faces the rising instead of the setting sun!

That Senator Trinkle will be elected Governor is a foregone conclusion. Our best wishes attend him and his administration.

Richmond-Dispatch Concedes Election—Congratulates Trinkle.

Democrats of Virginia have selected E. Lee Trinkle to be their next Governor Although the returns from yesterday's primary election are still far from complete, enough are in hand to make certain the victory of the Senator from Wythe County by a majority so substantial as to leave no room for doubt that he is the choice of the Virginia electorate.

It was his own Ninth District which contributed most to the success of Senator Trinkle. His friends and neighbors in that district rallied handsomely to his support to the end that he came eastward with a majority which the supporters of Harry St. George Tucker early in the evening realized could not be overcome. But the Ninth District is not alone in the honors of the Trinkle victory. The whole Southwest stood by him splendidly, while in the Valley and the eastern part of the State, where the Tucker managers had expected to pile up a vote large enough to overcome that of the Ninth District, a succession of counties and cities either gave the Senator majorities or cut the Tucker vote so heavily as to reenforce the landslide in the Ninth. Norfolk and Richmond were depended on to offset the expected majorities for Senator Trinkle in the Southwest, but they failed to live up to the Tucker hopes.

The Times-Dispatch congratulates Senator Trinkle on his magnificent success at the polls, and salutes him as the next Governor of Virginia. Of his election on November 8 there is, and can be, not a shadow of a doubt He has made a splendidly aggressive campaign, and the fact that he entered late and achieved a victory of such imposing proportion over a rival so redoubtable as Mr. Tucker marks him as a leader who can and will carry a united party with him to a triumph over the common political foe. The electorate has spoken, and its voice is law, and while Senator Trinkle was not its first choice, The Times-Dispatch accepts the result in the conviction that he will make a strong and acceptable Governor, worthy of the traditons of that exalted office. He will have the strongest support this newspaper can give him.

Mr. Tucker made a splendid battle, and he will accept defeat in the same spirit of loyalty that has attended his more than forty years of service to the party he loves. His friends and supporters regret that he has been denied achievement of the high honor he coveted as a crown of a notable career, but they rejoice in the clean, manly and vigorous campaign he waged, and they will continue to do him honor as one of Virginia's ablest and most distinguished sons.—(Richmond Times-Dispatch.)

DENY ATTACK BEING MADE ON MAJORITY MEMBERS OF MEDICAL COMMISSION

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 3.—An emphatic denial was made here today by officials of the Association for Retention of the Medical School and Hospital at the University of Virginia that the friends of the University of Virginia in seeking to retain the medical school and hospital on the campus are making any attack upon the majority members of the Medical Commission who voted to remove the school to Richmond. The Charlottesville officials claim that they are merely seeking to place the full facts in this question before the people of the state.

They contend that the Medical Commission was sitting as jurymen hearing the evidence and not as judges and that when a jury disagrees there is a mistrial without prejudice to either side and the case is retried from the beginning. There will be a second trial in this case, this time with the General Assembly sitting as the jury and they do not believe that the Assembly will attach undue weight or solemnity to the bare majority report of the Commission.

This is especially true in view of the law creating the Medical Commission, state Retention Association officials. The bill provided that one member should come from the faculty of each school. It did not say so but the inference is unmistakable this meant one member only. Any other inference would have permitted eight members from one school, which is unthinkable. It so happened, however, that two members were appointed from the Richmond faculty and one from the University. Excluding faculty members the balance of the Commission stood a tie, three to three. If the University had enjoyed two faculty representatives to one for Richmond, the vote would have been five to four for the University instead of Richmond.

MILK GOAT INDUSTRY GROWING IN IMPORTANCE

The production of milk goats has for a great many years been an important feature of the live-stocq industry in many European countries, but it has never secured a very strong foothold inthe United States. In this country the goat has always been an animal of more or less ridicule, as the majority of the people do not realize the possibilities of certain breeds or types that have been bred for many years along definite lines, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In Continental Europe milk goats are largely used by families unable to keep a cow, and great benefit is derived from having fresh milk at hand and at a low cost. In those countries the goat is often spoken of as the "poor man's cow."

During the past several years considerable interest has been manifested in the milk-goat industry in this country. The fact that the goat will supply sufficient milk for the average family and can be kept where it would be impossible to keep a cow is beginning to appeal to many people, especially those living in the small towns and the suburbs of the large cities.

The milk-goat industry is only in its infancy in America, the department specialists say. This type of goat is adapted to our country, and the industry should become of greater importance every year.

TRIBUTE TO ALGIERS!

In the House of Representatives on Friday last, Mr. Eppes from the committee of ways and means, submitted the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the president of the United States cause to be laid before this House, at the commencement of the next session of Congress, a detailed account of the expenses incurred in the treaty with Algiers, including the several sums paid to the Dey of Algiers, and the items of the contingent expenses attending the same.

PENINSULAR WAR

Lord Wellington is already upon the march ,having under his command upwards of 40,000 British, amongst which may be reckoned 13,000 cavalry; more than double the number ever sent to a foreign country by England. The combined forces in the peninsula do not fall much short of 150,000 men, and an immense train of artillery.

SUPREME CONVENTION KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

San Francisco, August 2.—Special trains continue to file into this city, bearing delegates and visiting Knights of Columbus and their families from all parts of the United States and other countries of North America, to the coming Supreme Convention of the Knights of Columbus. The formal Supreme Council commences tomorrow, with a monster military parade on the principal streets of the city, including army, navy, marine, American Legion and other units of patriotic, civic and fraternal organizations, among the participants; the Citizens' Committee of three hundred prominent professional and business men of San Francisco having charge of today's program. The Supreme officers and directors of the order will be especially honored by the citizens of San Francisco, and by the officials fo the army, and navy, there being every preparations made to tender suitable honors to the visiting Knights, due to the great war and post-war activities of the Knights of Columbus.

A solemn pontifical high mass on the grounds of the old Mission Dolores Church, where mass was first celebrated by the Franciscan fathers June 29, 1776, will be celebrated this morning, in the outdoors. There will be 8,000 people in attendance at the mass, which is to be celebrated by Bishop P. J. Keane, coadjutor of Sacramento; Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco rendering the sermon for the occasion. Formally attired, the members of St. Francis Assembly Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, will act as ushers at this great outdoor demonstration. An augmented choir and large stringed orchestra will provide music for the mass.

In the afternoon the opening business session of the 39th annual International Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus, will take place in the St. Francis hotel. The business sessions of this Supreme Convention will be open to third and fourth degree Knights of Columbus, and a large program of activities is ahead for action and discussion at the Supreme Council sessions.

Tomorrow evening the grand public reception and ball, tendered by the Citizens' Committee, will take place in San Francisco's great Civic Auditorium, with 20,000 people present at the function, some 10,000 outside of the auditorium to hear a band concert and listen to the addresses made inside, by the use of an amplified voice recorder.

In the auditorium an elaborate program of entertainment, including an organ recital, military band concert, song recitals by eminent artists and dancing will take place. Addresses are to be made by the representative of the President, and by Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, Mayor James Rolph, Jr., Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty and Supreme Director William P. Larkin of New York. The army and navy will also be represented. An informal reception will follow the exercises.

The city has taken on a carnival air, demonstrations taking place over town, due to open house being maintained by all fraternal and civic associations. In addition, the local K. of C. councils are conducting entertainments and social functions nightly; and the program of the General Committee is also a comprehensive one.

A Dog of Verdun.

Born in Verdun during the German attack in 1915, "Tringlot," an Irish terrier, was found as the only remaining living thing in the ruins of a home, and was adopted by Professor Cons of Princeton. The dog was taught to be a message carrier and proved of valuable assistance to the professor, who was in charge of a listening post on the front line trenches, and later of deciphering the German code as it was picked up between the lines.

WASHINGTON

will pay his own hotel bills, defray his own transportation expenses and meet all other financial obligations incurred during his sojourn at the National Capital.

As a matter of fact, the State Department has no appropriation which it can use for the purpose of paying the expenses of those who will attend his disarmament conference. An estimate is now being prepared by the officials for submission to Director of the Budget Dawes to be used by him in requesting the Congress for an appropriation to defray any emergency expenses which this government will incur as the result of the meeting in Washington. There are certain outlays which, of necessity, must be met by our own government, outside the personal expenses of the foreign delegates, and it wil lrequire a special appropriation from Congress before such bills can be paid.

The White House is closed to all visitors just now. For the first time in over two years, painters are at work giving the Executive Mansion a new coat of white paint. Those who have undertaken the job say that it will be completed by the time the President and Mrs. Harding return from their New England outing sometime next week. In the meantime sight-seers in the National Capital, will be compelled to view the home of the President from the outside.

The White House.

The "White House" is so called because it was built of white free stone.

The White House was modeled after the palace of the Duke of Leinster

The site for the White House was selected by President Washington and Maj. Peter Charles L'Enfant when they laid out Washington, in 1791.

The architect of the White House was James Hoban of Dublin, and the plans were chosen by competition July 15, 1792.

The cornerstone of the White House was laid on Oct. 13, 1792.

The first occupants of the White House were President and Mrs. John Adams in 1800.

The White House was burned by the British in 1814 and Mr. Hoban superintended the restoration.

The principal apartments in the White House are officially designated as the Red Room, Blue Room, Green Room, State Dining Room, Family Dining Room and Ushers' Lobby. There is a family floor, a main stairway and a private staircase and elevators. The dimensions of the White House in 1840 were: 170 feet length or frontage, 86 feet depth or width.

SHE DECLARES IT IS SIMPLY GRAND

Charlottesville Woman Says Her Strength And Energy Returned After Taking Tanlac.

"It used to leave me so exhausted to walk up stairs I just had to lie down for an hour or two to rest and get my breath back; but since taking Tanlac I can climb the steps two or three times without having to stop to rest," said Mrs. Henry Elliott, 21 Earley Building, Charlottesville, Va.

"My stomach got out of order about four or five months ago, and at the time I got Tanlac I was in such an awful fix I could hardly do my housework. I gave up eating first one things and then another because it hurt me so bad until finally I was hardly eating anything, but even then I suffered great pain in my stom ach for hours after eating. I got so dizzy many times I couldn't stand up. Nights I just lay awake most of the time so nervous I couldn't close my eyes, and often the sound of running water upset me so I had to cut it off before it ran enough for me to wash the dishes.

"But the first three doses of Tanlac helped me so much I noticed I was better, and I just kept improving right on until now I'm so hungry about my meal I can hardly wait until I get it on the table. Everything agrees with me, too, and my strength and energy have come back to me. My nerves never bother me a bit, and I sleep right on all night without waking up. Tanlac is simply grand."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield., Jr. and leading druggists everywhere.

WAR RISK INSURANCE

A reduction of 29,476 in the number of pending compensation and insurance claims of former service men and women has been effected during the last three months of the fiscal year ending July 1, 1921, it is announced today by Director C. R. Forbes of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. This reduction in the number of claims on which final action is still to be taken has been accomplished notwithstanding the fact that new claims have been reaching the Bureau during that period at an average rate of from 700 to 800 a day, and that these new cases receive at once as complete action as is possible on the data presented.

On April 1, 1921, there were pending before the Bureau 99,401 claims for compensation and 5,788 insurance claims; on July 1, 1921, the account stands 67,000 pending compensation claims and 3,025 pending insurance claims, while during that period of time 56,258 new claims have been filed with the Bureau.

A determined drive toward the goal of a current basis in handling the claims of former service men has been instituted in the Bureau. To this end a weekly chart is prepared and posted in each of the units of the compensation and insurance claims division where action on the claims is initiated, and on this appears the number of waiting claims apportioned to that section and the estimated account as it should stand at the close of the week. Many of the units are now running ahead of their schedule of reduction of cases awaiting action.

All cases which have been pending for six months are now handled by telegram, the wires going to the claimant himself, to the district office of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance which is nearest to him, to some one of the welfare organizations co-operating with the Bureau, or to any source from which information necessary to the adjudication of the claim may be obtained.

An intensive programme is being carried out in the Medical Division through the introduction of fifty additional doctors who were called from the District offices of the United States Public Health Service to aid in the drive and, as a result, the Medical Division has succeeded, from May 15 to July 1 in handling approximately 50,000 cases. The experience in handling War Risk cases so afforded these doctors, temporarily detailed from field service, will be of further assistance and value to the work of adjudicating War Risk Bureau claims when the doctors shall have returned to the field and when legislation may have made the establishment of regional offices with authority for complete action on cases an accomplished fact.

WOMEN MEN ADMIRE

Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but most of all the happy, healthy, contented woman, as beauty fades and the figure will change. Women who are troubled with backache, headaches, those dreadful dragging sensations, and nervous irritability, cannot hope to be popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible. The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is a natural restorative for such conditions, and dispels effectually all those distressing symptoms.

Vanderbilt Gets $3,000,000 To Move Medical School Two Miles To Campus.

Charlottesville, Va., July ——As a striking example of the importance attached by modern medical schools to close University contact Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, cited the case of Vanderbilt University of Nashville, Tennessee, in a recent address to the Board of Visitors of the University when that body made its decision favoring Charlottesville as a site for the consolidated medical school of the state.

In order to move the medical school of Vanderbilt University to the Vanderbilt campus the Carnegie Corporation and the General Educational Board recently voted $1,500,000 each to effect the transfer of Vanderbilt's medical plant a distance of about two miles across the city of Nashville.

Commenting on this Dr. Alderman stated: "We thus have the illuminating spectacle of one University building for the future proposing to spend $3,000,000 to annihilate two miles of space betwen it and the University grounds and a proposal from five members of the Medical Commission of Virginia that the University of Virginia deliberately establish for all time one hundred miles of space between it and the educational advantages of University connection. The consideration is an offer of buildings unsuitable for permanent use, alleged by them to be worth around $750,000. Shall this University and this Commonwealth commit themselves against the dictates of sound educational policy, to do in a wholesale way, for a paltry sum of money, or an unsatisfactory group of structures that which Vanderbilt University, acting under the best advice in America, is about to epend at least $3,000,000 to avoid doing in the slightest possible way? The answer to that question is an emphatic No; and this No measures the liberal movement of medical thinking in our country in the past ten years."

Protestant Churches to Advertise

Use of the advertising columns of the daily press for general church advertising, as well as for evangelistic purposes, has just been unanimously endorsed by two important conferences of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States. To give immediate effect to this action, the Headquarters News Bureau of the Church in New York was requested to add at once to its staff an expert in advertising to co-operate in preparing and suggesting advertising copy for the use of the various dioceses and parishes of the Church throughout the country.

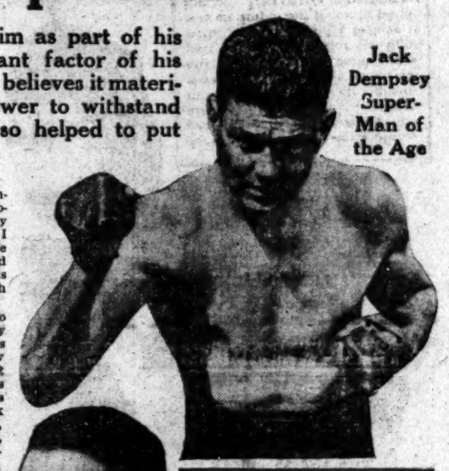
How I Won And How I Lost—Told By Dempsey and Carpentier

Dempsey says, Nuxated Iron used by him as part of his training was in his opinion an important factor of his phenomenal victory over Carpentier as he believes it materially helped to give him that mighty power to withstand Carpentier's hardest hits and that it also helped to put added punch behind his own blows.



Jack Dempsey Super-Man of the Age

JACK KEARNS Manager for Dempsey

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's Manager, says: "Knowing what Nuxated Iron had done for Dempsey in the Willard fight I strongly insisted that he use this wonderful strength and blood builder as a part of his training for the fight with Carpentier, and I believe it was an important factor in building up Dempsey's superhuman strength, power and endurance which were such important factors in winning his easy victory.

In the great fight Carpentier hit Dempsey with swift powerful blows that had the speed of gun fire. The yelling mob saw him land his famous right on Dempsey's jaw, yet Dempsey never flinched but relentlessly he tore after the Frenchman with his old ripping tearing, merciless power, landing terrific punches on head, body and jaw until Carpentier quickly weakened and then another powerful punch and again Dempsey showed himself to be the superman of the age—the greatest Champion the world has ever known.

The London Daily Mail, of July 4th, quotes Carpentier as saying "Dempsey is the most powerful man I have ever met in the ring. He is incredibly strong. To hit him is like hitting a mountain. To take his punches is like feeling the wallop of an avalanche. If I were asked what lead to my defeat, I would say the two tremendous blows Dempsey landed on the nape of my neck. I was not the same after that."

Dempsey says, "I feel I won through greater power, endurance, fighting skill and strategy. I took Carpentier's hardest blows on my chin and while they knocked me back they did not daze me in the least, I am sure Carpentier has not the endurance to stand the hard blows that I can stand, neither has he the strength to deliver them. I understand his methods of training are entirely different from mine. While I believe in scientific boxing still I never lose sight of the important fact that other things being equal it is the man who has the greatest strength, power and endurance that is going to win. In building up these three most important things there is nothing like filling your blood with good old strength-giving iron. In preparing for my great fight with Willard I used Nuxated Iron as part of my training, and I felt that it was such benefit to me that afterwards I used it, whenever I felt I was not quite up to the mark, to help restore my strength, energy and vigor; and when I commenced training for my fight with Carpentier, the supreme test of my life I again took Nuxated Iron and I believe it was an important factor in helping me to win so easily my great victory and I would advise people who are in a weakened condition to try this wonderful strength and blood builder."

When a man so strong and physically fit as Dempsey uses Nuxated Iron, how much more important is it that thousands and thousands of others who so greatly lack physical strength, power and endurance, should avail themselves of its benefits. Nuxated Iron not only contains strengthening organic iron for the purpose of enriching the blood but it also contains the principal chemical constituents of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man so that Nuxated Iron may be said to be both a blood and a nerve food. If through worry, overwork, constant nervous strain, grief or too much excitement your blood has become impoverished and your nerve force exhausted, you will find that a short course of Nuxated Iron will often produce most surprising results. It has been used and highly endorsed by former United States Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of United States Courts and many prominent people; even Rome having highly endorsed its use. It is now being used by over 4,000,000 people annually.

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: From the above article the reader must not infer that Nuxated Iron will make a giant in strength or a world's champion out of the average man; but Nuxated Iron will greatly increase the red blood corpuscles and by so doing increase your strength, power and endurance, and supply increased nerve force to the starving nerve cells. You can try Nuxated Iron on our absolute guarantee that if it does not increase your strength, power and endurance in two week's time and give you perfectly satisfactory results your money will be refunded. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. Nuxated Iron for the blood and nerves is sold by all druggists.
